

Study financing

The first trimester or course block to be completed is considered a probationary period and must be financed with the student's own funds.

Subsequently, a discussion will take place with the educational supervisor regarding the continuation of the studies.

If the studies are continued, we can assist you in financing the further studies in the form of:

1. a list of foundations that grant scholarships under certain conditions;
2. interest-free loans to finance tuition fees, which may be granted by HEA under certain conditions;
3. scholarships to finance tuition, which may be granted by HEA under certain conditions.
